New poll finds Jean Charest on his way to majority government

Sat, 2008-11-22 04:53.

Catherine Sherriffs

Just over two weeks before Quebecers head to the polls, and the latest survey out shows Premier Jean Charest's Liberals are on track to winning a majority government. The Nanos Research polls finds Charest leading the PQ 44 to 36 per cent.

The ADQ is far behind, sitting with only 12.

The survey respondents say the Liberals have the best party brand, and are most promising when it comes to leadership.
